DESCRIPTION:

Crafted by Macaulay Minton, the mastermind behind Dark Arts Whiskey House and former manager of Wilderness Trail's single barrel program, this rye whiskey originates from Indiana but finds its final touch in Kentucky. The finishing touches involve a unique process, utilizing Brazilian Amburana oak staves that infuse natural wood flavors reminiscent of gingerbread. This alchemical transformation takes place in Lexington, Kentucky, at Dark Arts Whiskey House, a place where the dark magic of whiskey blending, re-barreling, and finishing comes to life. The intricate aromas promise to stimulate your palate and delight a gathering of bourbon aficionados.

TASTING NOTES:

Color: Opulent, deep amber-toned

Aromas: Vanilla and allspice, brown sugar, white pepper, and a touch of dill

Palate: Black pepper, clove, and toffee

Finish: Spicy gingerbread, cloves, and sweet tobacco
